By a really remarkable coincidence the news dispatches from Spain during the short period of forty-eight hours last month revived memories of the American-Spanish war in a way to emphasize how far both countries have moved during the decade that has passed and how changed are their relations. On April 2 ex-President Roosevelt landed at Gibraltar for a brief visit while on his way to Africa. On the same day the Spanish cabinet, so the cable dispatches informed us, publicly announced its definite intention to reconstruct on modern lines the Spanish navy, which has been a negligible quantity since Cervera's defest at Santiago. The next day Admiral Cervera himself, who bore such a gallant part in the conflict of eleven years ago and who earned the high respect of the American military and naval forces, passed away at the ripe age of seventy. The evening papers of the same day in Madrid announced that General Weyler had completed his memoirs, dealing chiefly with his campaign in Cuba. A week later, on April 11, came the expiration of Article IV. of the Treaty of Paris, which gave Spain equal commercial privileges with the United States in the Philippine Islands.-American Review of Reviews for May.

Governor Signs More Laws.

Governor E. S. Stuart Saturday signed the bill creating a state board of examof the title, "registered nurse" by persons sullied example of Christian faithfulness not possessing state licenses issued by

The governor also signed the new fish and game bills. The fish bill sllows an appeal to court in every case from the decision of a justice of the peace or alderman, and requires the actual catching of fish in an illegal manner to constitute a violation of the act, and not the mere fishing with intent to illegally catch, as under the old law. In other respects the law is not much changed. Other bills signed are as follows:

To prevent the inducing, enticing or procuring, or attempting to do so, into the state any woman or girl for immoral purpose under a penalty of imprisonment of from one to five years and a fine not exceeding $5,000. This is the anti-white slave act introduced by Senstor Tustin.

munity, to recover the cost of such care from the home community of the patient, The Governor has also signed the Townsend automobile bill, which provides for the registration of machines according to horse power, with fees from $5 to $15, and the licensing of chauffeurs at $2, It gives the maximum speed limit in open country at a mile in two and onehalf minutes and in built-up sections at a mile in five minutes. Fines for violating the act are from $10 or ten days in jail up to $200 or thirty days in jail, according to whether it is the first, second or third offense. All local speed regulations are abolished, except in parks. Fines for violating the speed limits go into municipal treasuries and all other fines into the State Treasury.

A Splendid Record.

The following is a list of pensions and increases which Hon, N. P. Wheeler has been notified were granted to the 28th District of Pennsylvania during the Sixtieth Congress, ending March 4th, 1900-Number. County. Amount Carried $3,593 00 2,924 00 2,061 00 670 00 503 00 Venango Warren Forest

Sounds Very Fishy.

One of the rumors that is periodically set afloat concerning some establishment or corporation has been circulating for a couple of days and it is to the effect that there is soon to be a notable change in the running of railroads. It is stated that the Pennsylvania's lease of the W. N. Y. & P. railroad system expires June 1 and that the Pennsy is going to throw up its holdings. It is further reported that the Nickle Plate railroad company intends taking over the Chautauqua division from Oil City to Buffalo. The story originates from railroad men who claim that the matter has been settled between the corporations and that the change will surely be made. There probably is no foundation for the report, but if it should prove true, it will make quite a difference in business affairs. The Adams Express company would be put out of business on that division and the National Express company would gain a foothold. It scarcely seems possible that the P. R. R. would throw up a lease of this kind and allow an opposition company to take it over, even if the property did not pay large dividends. The story is given for what it is worth and it may be true, but this is doubtful .- Warren Mirror.

In this connection the Titusville Herald of Monday prints a rather lengthy story to the effect that the New York Central railroad has secured control of the old W. N. Y. & P. road, which it has leased "irom the Pennsylvania Railroad company." Had the Herald said that the lease of the P. R. R. of the W. N. Y. & P. had expired and that the N. Y. Central look more plausible, but to say that the almost only route into Buffalo to its most aggressive competitor, sounds rather fishy to one with average common sense. stored, and when it again comes up for and see. That's what the g. p. has always to do anyway.

The Late John Casey.

Funeral services in memory of the late John Casey of West Hickory, brief mention of whose death was made in the REPUBLICAN of last week, were held at St. John's church of Tidioute at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, the Rev. A. H. Wiersbinski officiating, and the following relatives acting as pall-bearers: James Connelley, T. J. Connelley, Thomas More, E. Hennessey, H. O'Hara and H. W. G. Rodgers, have a long list of Monu-Paterson. The interment took place in St. John's cemetery, and though the some of which has already been comweather was inclement, many friends be- pleted, and all of which will be finished sides the relatives braved the storm to early in the season. Mr. Casey was a man of sterling qualities, a kind and affectionate father and husband, a good neighbor, a friend to everyone and bearing ill against no one. He was ever faithful in his work. Hon. N. P. Wheeler, in whose employ he had been for many years, while standing near his bier said to the bereaved family and friends, "In all my experience with men, Mr. Casey was an exception, being unequalled in faithfulness, kindness, and the fear and love of God," And so it was with all his friends. This is a more dangerous disease than s generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. A Clarion dispatch to the Perrick under date of May 3, says: "A man was brought in a back from the vicinity of Newmansville, this county, Saturday forencon, handcuffed and with his feet forenoon, handcuffed and with his feet tied, and lodged in jail. Four of his neighbors brought him here, representing that he had become violently insane, and that therefore they were justified in seizing and bringing him to this place in irons and with his feet bound. It is reported that their representations that he was wholly bereft of reason were sustained by his actions after being placed behind the bars and loosened, that he distained by his actions after being placed behind the bars and loosened, that he displaced and broke a pipe fixture, divested himself of his clothing and did other things unquestionably evidential of insanity, greatly damaging the cell in which be was placed, and nearly tearing a hole through a wall thereof, whereupou he was again bound. He is reported to have the extraordinary physical strength which sometimes accompanies madness. J. E. Cossgrove was up to Marienville, which sometimes accompanies madness. Several men, it appears, found it ex-ceedingly difficult to handcuff and tie him. The unfortunate man is Issac Hep-ler, 53 years of age and has a wife and five children. The county commissioners in-tend having him taken to the Warren insane asylum to-day."

Mr. Hepler was a former citizen of Tionesta. The cause of his trouble is attributed to an accident sustained to one of his eyes several months ago, and the ultimate loss of the sight of that member.
